upupu
which means that your conclusion is "komaeda is the culprit" right?

please, wait a moment!!
p...
what is it, tsumiki?
haa!! I'm not ugly pig woman!
huh? shut up you ugly pig woman
uh..
uhm...
is komaeda really the culprit?

b-but.. according to the conclusion everyone reached before togami-kun was killed under the table but komaeda was very clean that time according to my autopsy the wounds on togami's body are about 5mm w-what are you talking about?
b-but he has already confessed right?
if it's 5mm wouldn't it be much finer than the knife?
n-no I mean ...
this the first time ever some one praise me ....
not even my own mother praise me before ....
I'm beautiful.. are you praising me?

4

* in japanese きれい means both "clean" and "beautiful"

that is what I mean!
y
yes!
by "clean" you mean
"he didn't have any bloodstain" ?
they could have used something to cover themselves
no blood stain?
it's impossible to hide the tablecloth in the storage room in the dark the storage room and the table in the main hall are quite distant we have actually discovered a bloodstained tablecloth in the storage room but coult it be that komaeda is not the culprit..?
ow!
stop!
hey! what are you doing !
seems that komaeda has been counterattacked by togami considering every one's words during blackout moda told me and hinata's detective ability your conclusion is that i'm not the culprit?

komaeda...
the voices mioda recognized...
tsumiki's autopsy...
amazing
to show respect toward your talents i'll confess a bit even bofore i could reach the knife,togami pushed me away from the table my murdenng plan has failed
e huh
pushed you away!?

then
you didn't kill togami?
then
aren't we back to the starting point?
i'm such an hopeless person that i'm unable even to take the knife
that's right
you must not give up
you shouldn't say something so despairing without reason didn't we finish already?
back to the starting point ?!

you must have hope and go foreward!
like now, stand up again endless time after errors. you are the embodiment of hope mmh ...
ugh ...

huh?
it's somewhere under the table but it's not under the table
think about it
it could be
that the culprit killed togami from under the table ah! tanaka!
you're now wearing that earring you droppad in the gaps of the floor, right?
it means that you've found the way to get under the floor, right?
yea since you're wearing that devildog earring
you mean the devil dog earring?

fuhaha that's right
alright, i'll tell you about my "power" one of the four dark gods of destruction "mirage silver falcon" Cham-P found the hidden passage to underground in the storage room among the pile of boxes i opened chaos and went through the passage this is the power of evils force it makes me embarrassed just to listen to you aren't you just a breeder?
the culprit
must have used the hidden door found by tanaka to go under the floor and kill togami i see
then
they went under the floor from the storage room during the party b but
the corridor was so dark how could they reach the storage room? it's just like asking them to make eggs benedict without eggs yea
it was so dark that i couldn't reach the nearby office

a .....
portable gas stove?!
they should have used some kind of light source
a gas stove doesn't need electricity to function and it can be carried around!
according to the kitchen equipment list there was a portable gas stove!
the culprit must have used the gas stove and walked through the corridor during the black out!
hinata kun .....

you've got that
wrong

huh?
there are holes in your argument portable stove is a good idea indeed, however it sounds even more suspicius if you keep denying ah, i don't mean something dirty it really isn't anything dirty holes? what holes? can you explain please?
how could i lose against someone like you?
challenge you say?
i challenge you
bring it on, hinata

it's about time to find it out i wonder whose shsl talent is better can you break my counter-argument?
